LOCATION

Lundin Links is a highly sought-after coastal village forming part of the East Neuk. Best known for its 2 golf courses, the magnificent 18-hole Tom Morris/James Braid designed course which was previously used as a pre-qualifying course when The Open Championship was held at St Andrews and Lundin Links Ladies 9-hole course which is the oldest woman's golf course in the world. Tennis courts, a bowling club and sports club complete the résumé for the ultimate in lifestyle living. Contiguous with Lower Largo famous for being the home of the castaway Alexander Selkirk it also includes fine beaches, a historic viaduct, local amenities and close proximity to many fishing villages as well as being around 20 minutes or 11 miles from St. Andrews, the home of golf. Leven approximately 3 miles away provides all essential amenities including a train station with direct links to Edinburgh city centre. Making this one of the most desirable seaside villages to live.
